

Students have a harder time joining a new club as they are not informed on when a club meets each week or do not have the necessary communication tools to do so.